

I support media diversity
Dear Sirs
I'll keep this short & sweet.

I believe that minimizing the media ownership rules as proposed will impact the opportunity for opinion expression, and therefore reduce the diversity of opinion, across this country's media. While there are more actual outlets to receive information these days, ownership of these outlets will be more centralized. Importantly, sources, from which these outlets receive information for dissemination, will be increasingly concentrated. This trend is already in place; these rule changes will greatly exacerbate them. Our society will be the loser should these changes come through.

The public interest will best be served by, at minimum, preserving the status quo of media ownership rules in the upcoming proceedings.

Please do what is right for the country and reject the proposed changes.

Thank you,

Robert Drew
